This information given to Marion Martin Hall of Chicago Fort Dearborn Chapter of the DAR, by W. W. Bon Durant 2420 Lawrence St., N. E. Washington, D. C.

Peter Hay, when a young man fell in love with a girl in Boston, but his family objected and he told his folks he would either marry her or leave home and never see him again. They preferred the latter and went South and sought work near Abingdon, Va. Having always helped in a store, he knew nothing of manual labor (although some say he was a tinner, then a farmer.) He hired out to cut timber in that part of Virginia and very soon cut his foot and was cared for in the home of his employer, George Finley, by one of his daughters, Elizabeth.

Soon after his recovery they were married, their first two children, and possibly the third, were born in Virginia. About 1801 they moved to Logan County, Ky., lived there and in Todd County, Ky. In 1818 they moved to Christian County, Ky. He and his wife died there within a few weeks of each other, in August 1824 and are buried in Christian County. He was too young to take part in the Revolutionary War, but his oldest brother was a soldier in the Continental Army (This brother could have been John Hay 2nd born Sept. 5, 1755, as shown on preceding pages.

Peter Hay personally never owned a slave, but his wife inherited several from her people. He used to say that "The black man, like children of Israel in Egypt, will some day come out of bondage." At the death of her parents Marcy Sutton Hay received a servant called "Sam". When she moved to Illinois, about 1834, she allowed him to select the master to whom he was to be sold, and he selected an uncle of hers, but she often said she felt like the price received was "blood" money and regretted her act.

The Finleys came with Peter Hay from Virginia to Kentucky and Elizabeth's father (George Finley) died in Kentucky 1814. His will, dated August 22, 1812, is said to be recorded in either Todd County or Logan County, (probably the latter) and mentions sons-in-law Peter Hay, James Glenn and Hugh Orr, as executors. The daughters' names were Elizabeth, Rachel and Mary. On October 17, 1818, George Finley (apparently a brother of Elizabeth Finley Hay) wrote from Caldwell County, Ky to John Hay, Peter's son, at Russellville, Logan Co. Ky., saying: "Dear Jacky: Your uncle wants your father to procure him two sides of saddle leather and one hog skin for seating and he will satisfy him for them". This indicates that Peter Hay and family were living in Logan County as late as 1818.

About 1818 Peter Hay longed to return to the East. He had prospered. There were no railroads so he rode horseback to Portsmouth, Va., sold his horse and saddle and took boat to Boston. At first no trace of his family was found, but finally an old friend told him only one sister remained. He found her and was told of the search that had been made for him in an effort to give him his share of the estate, before declaring him "legally" dead. When he returned he brought many valuable gifts to members of the family.

In a note book under the caption "History Of Ancestors of Sarah Florence Bon Durant" (unmarried,) written in 1932, the following statements, in substance, are found:

John Hay was a wealthy merchant of Boston, Mass. He was of English and Scotch descent. A sister of his married a Mr. Bartlett, one of the signers of the Declaration Of Independence and an officer in the Continental Army.

Former Secretary Of State John Hay (under President McKinley) was a relative of this family of Boston, although born in Indiana in 1838. This fact was learned at the time he was associated with Abraham Lincoln in Illinois, by Samuel Hay of Danvers, Illinois about 1859.

What is now known as the "Commons" in Boston once was an apple orchard owned by this Hay family. During the Revolutionary War the British soldiers cut down these trees for wood for their camp fires.

The first ones of this family came from England in a sail boat, landing near Boston. Soon after they landed a daughter was born who was named Mercy, because of God's mercy shown them in their perilous voyage. Mercy Sutton Hay was named for this Aunt.

In a letter postmarked Bloomington, Ill., June 13, 1935 Miss Cora Vance, a great grand daughter of Peter Hay stated:

"I do not know the name of the father of Peter Hay, but have been told that he was twice married. The names of his wives were Marcia Sutton and Catherine Bartlett. Do not know which was No. 1 or No. 2. Catherine Bartlett was a sister of Josiah Bartlett, a signer of the Declaration of Independence. I think (?) we are descended from Marcia Sutton."

No II.

Peter Hay

Born May 17, 1770 or May 21, 1768 Boston, Mass.
Died August 2, 1824 Christian County, Kentucky.
Methodist Episcopal Church.

Married Elizabeth Finley June 30, 1794 in Va.
Born 1774 Washington County, Va.
Died August 13, 1824 Christian Co. Ky.
Old school Presbyterran Church. is the daughter of George and Jean (Iyle) Finley.

Peter Hay was born and raised in Boston, Mass. Elizabeth Finley was born in Virginia. They were both buried in Christian County, Ky. and died 11 days apart. They settled in Todd County first and then removed to the adjoining county of Christian County in 1821. They were both of Scotch Irish descent. Peter Hay was not old enough to serve in the Revolutionary war but his elder brother was a soldier in the Continental army. His father's orchard near Charleston was destroyed by the British. They lived in Virginia until 1801 when they migrated to Kentucky settling first in Logan County. then Todd and later Christian County. PETER HAY AND HIS WIFE ELIZABETH lived for a while in Washington County, Virginia near Abington as his oldest son was born there, and left when the child was 4 years old for Kentucky in 1801.

Peter Hay was a large slave holder in Kentucky where his death occurred in 1824. After his death the slaves were liberated and sent to Liberia and the children of Peter Hay and Elizabeth Finley migrated north to McLean County, Illinois, in 1835.

 "Good Old Times In McLean Co."

John Hay one of the noted pioneers came to Illinois in the year 1834, his brothers and sisters joined him also his brotherinlaw Young Hall from Todd County, Ky. and Christian Co. Ky. He was a member of the Christian Church for 55 years and is now over ninety years of age. John Hay was only 4 years old when his family left Virginia where he was born. In 1801 they moved to Logan County Ky. lived in Todd County until 1819 when they moved to the next county called Christian. In 1834 after his parents had been dead years he migrated to Illinois and moved his family in 1835.

John Hay settled on the farm where John Shortnoes now lives near Wilkesborough in the present township of Dry Grove.

Mr. Hay is about five feet ten inches in height. His hair is white and his eyes are gray. He is a man of the best of feeling and the kindest of manners. He is careful and straight forward in all things and is anxious to do only what is fair with his neighbors. He seems to have been successful in his financial matters.

Mr. Hay has experience the hardships of the old settlers and has enjoyed their sports. He remembers particularly of a grand hunt in which the settlers from all over the country participated. Some of the hunters ran down a deer about four miles north of Bloomington, tied to the tail of a roan horse belonging to Dr. John F. Henry and brought it home in triumph.

On the 25th of October, 1821, Mr. Hay married Celia Killebrew. By this marriage nine children were born and three are living. Peter G. Hay, who lives in Tazewell County just across the line from McLean. Susan G. wife of George Koe lives with her father. She is remarkably pleasant and entertaining lady, and everyone in her presence feels the effect of her good nature and her happy spirits.

Mrs. Celia Killebrew Hay died August 9, 1840. On the 10th of October, 1841, Mr. Hay married Sarah A. Daniel. By this marriage he had two children, of whom none is living. She is Alphis K. Hay and lives at home with her father. Some say Sarah, name was Sarah A. Clark. Celia Killebrew was born March 7, 1802.

On the 21st of February 1860, Mr. Hay married Mrs. Cynthia Rowell, of Danvers, township, who died November 6, 1866, no children by this issue.

From the book "The Good Old Times In McLean County, Ill."
 by Dr. E. Duis, June, 1, 1874.

George Finley Hay, brother of John Hay, was born September 18, 1814 in Todd County, Kentucky. In about the year 1819 the family moved to Christian County, just west and there lived until George Hay came farther west. Mr. Hay received his common education in Kentucky. For a while he attended a grammar school which was conducted on the Lancasterian plan. By this ~~KKK~~ plan the teacher parsed the words and the scholars repeated his parsing. After teaching grammar for sixty days he warranted all his scholars perfect. He had a great examination at the close of the school and the whole neighborhood was excited and glad to learn that the children understood grammar. - Mr. Hay took quite an interest in mathematics, studied surveying and obtained a very good common education. He tells of a queer adventure in which he was engaged while attending a school at Bluewater, Kentucky. The streams of water in that region of country often ran under ground and were carried along on beds of rock below the surface. Sometimes they formed by this means extended caverns through the rocks. One of these streams ran under the ground near Bluewater Spring, where Mr. Hay attended school. But sometimes the underground stream became so full of water that it would gush up and flow over the ground for a long distance. At other seasons of the year the underground stream had very little water in it, and the opening then became an extended cave with a rivulet running through it. Mr. Hay and a companion once went a quarter of a mile through the cave formed by this underground stream. They took a lantern with them and traveled over rocks and through crevices with water splashing by their sides. At last they saw daylight streaming down from the opening near Bluewater Spring. As they came up they found the teacher of the school and many of the scholars waiting for them for the determination of these adventurous youths to explore the underground water course, the teacher put a stop to any further expeditions.

In 1834 Mr. Hay came to Illinois and arrived at Walnut Grove, in what was then McLean County on the 20th of October. This Grove is now included in Woodford County. On the 13 of April following Mr. Hay came to Dry Grove. In 1836 he was made Deputy Surveyor under Major Dickason. He surveyed a great many little towns, laid out Miller's addition to Bloomington, and also Foster's and White's additions. The difficulties of surveying in the early days were great, for it was hard to move from point to point. The streams were often swollen and the crossings were usually fords. Mr. Hay was once with a party of surveyors on the north Mackinaw, a heavy rain suddenly fell, and that treacherous stream became high. The party returned in a canoe by making many trips and their horses swam. When Mr. Hay was on his way to lay off Miller's addition to Bloomington he found the streams high, their bridges overflowed and some of the planks floated off. He walked over the bridges, pressing down the floating planks, stepping over the open spaces and holding the halter of his horse as the animal swam across below. It was Mr. Hay's duty to attend to all surveying between ranges one and two east of the third principal meridian.

Mr. Hay tells a curious circumstance concerning the sudden change of December 1836, which has never before been related. He prepared a place for his pigs to sleep, about forty or fifty rods from where they were fed. When the sudden change came they started for their bed, but some of them froze to death in the path on the way. Mr. Hay rode three miles, after the sudden change took place, but he had the wind to his back and did not suffer so much in consequence. A traveler who was caught out in that sudden change walked a mile and arrived at Peter McCullough's house in Dry Grove, the ice collected on him, as the freezing water and slush splashed up and his parts were so stiffened that he moved with difficulty.

When the country in the West became so settled that plenty of wheat and corn was raised, the sandhill cranes became numerous. Mr. Hay was once crossing the prairie towards White Oak Grove, when he saw a young crane and attempted to catch it, but the old birds defended it so vigorously that he gave it up as a bad job. Their appearance is fierce and their sharp bills and long necks make them dangerous when wounded or while defending their young. Mr. Hay has been on many hunting expeditions as all settlers have and has seen the dangers of the chase. William McCullough, was once chasing a wolf, when his horse stepped into a gopher's hole and the fall broke the animal's neck.

On the 17th of March 1836, Mr. Hay married Elizabeth Ann McCullough, daughter of Peter McCullough the first permanent settler in Dry Grove. She is a lady of fine feelings, and have one child, Elizabeth Lavine, wife of John W. Owens, who live a quarter of a mile east of her father's on the surface Farm adjoining Wilkesborough. They also raised Nannie McCullough, niece of Mrs. Hay who married Thomas Pickersall.

Mr. Hay is a man of the kindest disposition and the strictest integrity. He is about five feet and a half in height, has a heavy head of hair, is sparse in build, but healthy and active. He seems to have had fair success in the world and takes pleasure in exercising that hospitality for which the old settlers are distinguished.

Re Bondurant Family

sent to the compiler August 10, 1945 from William Bondurant of Washington, D. D.

Dr. Joseph Bondurant and Elizabeth Ann Chastain were born married and lived in France, see "The Agee Family" page 330. Their son Jean Pierre Bondurant was born about 1678 and arrived at the Jamestown, Va. Colony with other Huguenot refugees on Sept. 20, 1700 in the ship "Peter & Anthony" (Huguenot Pub'n #6-page 131). Later he went to the French settlement at Manakintown, Henrico County, above Richmond on the James River. He was married about 1708 to Ann Faure ? (Ford). On Mar. 4, 1725 rec'd patent to 400 acres land in Henrico Co. Va. (Book 12 page 399) dated January 17, 1734 (will book 2, page 56, Goochland Co. Va.) and he probably died soon thereafter. His wife was born about 1689 and survived her husband. (The Jean Pierre Bondurant Chapter of the Huguenot Society of the Founders of Manakin in the Colony of Virginia was organized in Washington, D.C. in 1944. Issue all born in Henrico County, Va.

Hall Family.

The Courier Journal, Louisville, Kentucky, June 16, 1906. Clipping original, Marion Martin Hall of Chicago, Ill.

One of the happiest of all the homecoming parties is that of Francis Micajah Hall of Danvers, Illinois, his daughter Eva Jane Hall of Bloomington, Illinois and his brother John Robert Hall of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, the latter of whom has entered for the "tenderest age" and the longest away prizes. The Hall family moved from Todd County by ox-cart to Illinois in 1831 when Francis Hall was two years of age. The former was back to Kentucky twenty-one years ago, but until this week the other had been absent for seventy-one years. The grand-father of the two men was Micajah Hall, who came from North Carolina and settled in Todd County in 1795. He died in 1855 at a very advanced age. (80 years, 10 months and 5 days).

Francis Micajah Hall tells with pride that he has been a Douglas Democrat and a Bryan Democrat all of his life. He was a delegate to the Baltimore convention at which Stephen Douglas was nominated for the presidency. Mr. Hall was personally acquainted with Abraham Lincoln and Stephen Douglas and has often heard Jefferson Davis speak in Congress. His brother however is "the strongest Prohibitionist that ever struck the States". His son, George Franklin Hall, is pastor of the Bush Temple, a Christian Church in Chicago and preaches always to crowded houses. The elder brother is 77 years of age and the younger 71. John Robert had expressed his intention to recite one of his poems to the crowd at the armory if he is the winner of a prize.

After the party finishes doing the home coming here in Louisville it will go to Todd County to see the old home of their ancestors. An expedition may be arranged so that the daughter may see for once some country that really is beautiful.

Newspaper Clipping of Old marriage certificate of Francis Micajah Hall has historical family Heirloom issued just eighty years ago.

Mr. Francis Micajah Hall, the well known citizen of Danvers, Illinois, was in Bloomington, Illinois yesterday exhibiting a curious and very interesting relic which was received by his father and Mother exactly eighty years ago yesterday Nov. 24th. An added note of interest was that it was made out by the Grandfather of the late James S. Naville, mayor of Bloomington, Illinois, who was Reverend James A. Lindsey. The Lindsey's and the Halls lived in Kentucky but both moved to and became prominent in McLean County, Ill. The wording of the certificate was as follows:

"Kentucky, Christian County, November 24, 1829. I, James A. Lindsey, pastor of the Baptist Church at Nash's Springs do certify by this that being legally authorized by law I did on the date above written solemnize the rights of marriage between Young Hall and Rachel Finley Hay, so that they are lawfully man and wife. Given under my hand.

James A. Lindsey.

They were married Baptist Church
November, 24, 1829.

Todd County Times Elkston, Kentucky.
Hall, June 22, 1906.

Two brothers John Robert and Francis Micajah Hall, the former from Cedar Rapids, Iowa and latter from Danvers, Ill. were among the first to register at the Todd County Headquarters at Louisville, Ky. When John Hall was only six weeks old his parents left this county in an ex-cart and his brother was only 2 years old at the time. John Robert Hall is now 71 years and this is his first visit to the State of his birth.

February 11, 1836. copy.

This indenture made and entered into by and between William Holland and Jane his wife of the county of Tazewell in the State of Illinois of the first part and Young Hall of the County of Tazewell and State of Illinois of the second part. Witness that said party of the first part for and in consideration of the sum of ten dollars and in hand paid by said party of the second part the receipt where of is hereby acknowledged hath granted bargained and sold and those present do grant bargain and sell unto the said party of the second part his heirs and assigns all their interest in and to a certain tract of land or lot of ground situate lying and being in the county and state aforesaid and being lots forty and forty-one in the town of Washington designated on the plat of said town as by reference to said plat will appear.

In testimony whereof the party of the first part hath hereunto set their hands and seals this 16th day of October in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five.
(McLean County was part of Tazewell County, Originally.)

The old farm of Micajah Hall II, (No. 3) is situated on the line between Logan and Todd Counties about due west of Lewisburg, Ky. Micajah Hall III and his wife Harriet (Duval) Hall are buried on this farm. John Hall and two of his three wives are buried on his home place about one mile distant (Claudius Hall living there on the latter place when we visited there July 1939 and copied data off grave stones

The farm of Micajah Hall II after his death was willed to his second wife Jane Sherrill who gave it to their grand daughter, Claudius Hall Harris. The Harris family lived there until 1905 then sold the place to a man named Johnson who lives on it now. The old house still stands but the place is generally run down and much neglected.

Duval, William Claudius
Born 1770
Died 1854

married 1795 or 1796 in Maryland

Issue.

1. Felix Grundy Duval
who became a doctor and lived in Missouri
2. Harriet W. Duval married Micajah Hall II
Born May 1, 1796 born June 23, 1796
Died Jan. 27, 1857
was four years old when her parents came to Logan County, Ky.
3. Presley Edwards Duval married Early
4. Dennis Perry Duval married Mason
5. Joseph Morris Duval married Henes
6. Benjamin Gaither Duval married Henry
7. Kittle Duval married Duncan

three others who died when children.

Said to have lived one year in another county in Ky. before coming to Logan County, Ky.
Claudius Duval is said to have two unmarried sisters (Kittle and Calie) who remained in Maryland and owned 500 acres of land where Baltimore now stands.

Claudius Duval had an Uncle, William who started to this c country from France and was killed on the way over.

Harriet Duval was 4 years old when her parents came to Logan County, Ky.

William Claudius Duval is said to have died in 1854 at the age of 84 years. This would figure his birth as 1770 since he had a large family and his second child was born in 1779 it is probable that he was married about 1795 or 1796.

Notes given to me by William Hall, of Hot Springs, Arkansas.
North Carolina Notes.

In the census of North Carolina in 1790 there occurs in Morgan District, Burke County in numbers the names Hall, Sellers, Rutherford. These are mostly in the sixth company page 108.

The first Scotch Irish settlement in North Carolina was in 1736 in Duplin County. Largest settlement in the hill country centering in Michlenburg.

Morgan Hall Page 752:

Burke, County is the only county where the name of Hall, Rutherford and Sellers occur together in the census of 1790. Nash County has a Rutherford and Sellers family but no Hall. Here are the families of John Robert Sellers and John and John Jr. Hall and James and William Rutherford all these names are listed in the sixth company and very near together as the near neighbors. John Hall has 3 sons under 16 years and six females in his family also 1 slave. John Sellers had only a wife but Robert Sellers had five white females in his family. I there conclude the Micajah Hall, Ist, who was just 16 at this time was the son of John Hall and that Mary Sellers was the daughter of Robert Sellers all of Burke County, North Carolina.

My ancestor who might have been in the Revolutionary war was John Hall of Burke County, N. C. 1810 Census of Logan Co. Ky. Micajah Hall II. Males.

Hall, Francis Micajah, (No. 32) Hall, Young (No. 6) Hall, Micajah (No. 1)
Born March 25, 1833 Todd County, Ky.
Died April 5, 1917 Danvers, Ill.

married Jane Ellen Barnard 8-19-1855
Born June 22, 1838 Danvers, I.
Died Sept. 7, 1925 Danvers, I.

Francis Micajah Hall lived all of his life in Danvers, Ill, but was born in Todd County, Ky. near Elkton, left there when 2½ years old in 1835. Francis secured himself a good education for those days. He attended some 2 or 3 winters the academy at Stout's Grove in the Rev. Cyrus Haines school. Before he was 20 he purchased 130 acres in Dry Grove Township for $9.00 an acre he might have purchased the same two years previous for $1.00 per acre. His first crop of wheat paid for the land breaking and fencing included. He now owns 600 acres in McLean County, it took some 15 miles of fencing to enclose it. His success attributed in handling of cattle. He was a personal friend of Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas, visited the latter in Washington, D. C. (Page 1038 Biograph Sketches of McLean Co. Ill.)

In 1906 Francis Micajah Hall took his youngest child Eva and accompanied his brother John Robert Hall to the Kentucky Centennial to visit their birth place.

Francis Micajah Hall and his wife Jane Ellen Barnard celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. Wendell Hall, with his father George F. Hall and his mother, Laura Woods Hall, attended same. Their home is still standing in Danvers, Ill.

married Mary Jane Barnard on Mar.25, in Butler County, Ia. 1863
Born August 29, 1844 Money Creek,
McLean County, Ill.
Died Dec. 7, 1884 at Weverly, Iowa.
the day her youngest child Mark, was 3 months old.

John Hall was a farmer and attended Dureka College, Ill. He was born in Todd County, Ky and his family left there when John was six weeks old and settled in McLean County, Ill. They first went to Washington, Tazewell Co., Ill October 16, 1835 - all of the Hay brothers and sisters joined the family and then later settled McLean County, Wilkesboro, then to Danvers, Ill where they were all raised. The family came in a covered wagon.

John Hall visited his birthplace 70 years later when Kentucky celebrated it's Centennial. "From John Hall's journal, We went to Kentucky home coming June 20, 1906 in Todd, County, taking train with brother Frances Micaiah Hall and daughter Eva. The latter two had visited Kentucky previously but it was John Hall's first visit in 70 years.
They went on horseback to Grandfather's home (Micaiah Hall) and to his grave which was three miles further about 10 or 12 miles got 3 pieces of old cabin that stood for more than 100 years - the house where my father was born (Young Hall). Met 19 of the Halls here and took dinner here and went to the old Spring of 100 years old got cedar cane by old spring.

John Hall was of the Christian faith, ruddy complexion and a wealth of firey red hair. A meticulous man, keeping a daily dairy for many years.

Mary Jane Barnard had moved to Butler County, Iowa, from Danvers, with her folks, John Robert Hall followed her out there married and then returned to Danvers, Ill for their honeymoon. They raised their family in Iowa.

Married Jerry Harris June 3, 1890
Born Sept. 29, 1861 Todd Co.Ky.

In July 1939 we visited Claudius Hall and her husband and copied the inscriptions of her father and his two wives off the tombstones in their back yard. She had many beautiful quilts that she had pieced, they were exquisitely made. Also had in her possession a quilt pieced by her father's first wife Luticia Harriet Southerland which was over 100 years old. All these quilts were kept under the mattress of her bed. The farm is near Lewisburg, Ky.

Hall, Wendell Woods (No. 193) Hall, George Franklin (No. 108)
 Born August 23, 1896 Hall, John Robert (No. 33)
 St. George, Kansas. Hall, Young (No. 6)
 Hall, Micajah (No. 1)

His Mother was vacationing in St. George, Kansas, visiting her Mother, when Wendell was born, the family were living in Decatur, Illinois. Dr. Lyman her brother-in-law of Manhattan, Kansas was the attending physician.

The family removed to Chicago when Wendell was about five as he started school at the Audabon School while living on Eddy Street, they removed shortly to 4211 NO. Hermitage where he lived until he married. He attended Ravenswood grammar school then left in the 7th grade for Kemper Military School at Booneville, Mo. He attended Lake View High School, Lane Technical High School and graduated at University High School.

He served in World War I as a bugler was sent overseas to Brest, France where he contracted the "flu" so lost track of his company spent his time entertaining the wounded and sick soldiers until he was sent home as a casual and released from the army. Was a member of the 5th Anti Aircraft.

He immediately went into vaudeville playing the xylophone and started to write and publish his songs. When radio appeared he immediately found it a medium to popularize his songs so after appearing on KYW for 2 years he decided to go on the road covering the various stations singing his songs, when he arrived in New York, ten of the recording companies were eager to publish his numbers including, "Ain't Gonna Rain No Mo.". While in New York he signed with the Ever ready battery company to sponsor their product on the air, it being the first company to use radio as an advertising medium. He traveled from Coast to Coast covering all the principal radio stations in United States, Canada, Hawaii, Cuba and Great Britain, including the Eifel Tower in Paris, France.

Jonathan Glenn More, was a well known farmer and stock husband raiser. The farm is located on section 33 Indian Grove Township. He has been a resident for over a half of a Century. In that time he has seen the State grow from wilderness to sparsely settled neighborhood, which has grown to a thickly peopled commonwealth dotted over with populous cities and ramified in all directions by railroads. No class of men have had more to do with this remarkable progress than those ~~XXXXXX~~ ~~XXXXXX~~ beautiful ~~and~~ transformed the vast expanse of raw prairie into farms many of which are beautiful and fertile as gardens.
 It happens in this instance that both father and son share in the honors that crown the pioneers who have lived to see on every side the happy results of their handiwork.

REPORT

1. The purpose of this report is to provide a summary of the results of the study conducted over a period of six months. The study was designed to investigate the effects of various factors on the growth and development of the plant species under investigation.

2. The study was conducted in a controlled environment, and the results were analyzed using statistical methods. The data collected during the study is presented in the following tables and figures.

3. The results of the study indicate that the growth and development of the plant species are significantly affected by the factors investigated. The data shows that the growth rate is highest under the conditions of high temperature and high humidity, and lowest under the conditions of low temperature and low humidity. The results also show that the growth rate is significantly affected by the concentration of the nutrient solution.

Let $f(x)$ be a function defined on the interval $[a, b]$. The function $f(x)$ is said to be continuous at the point x_0 if for every $\epsilon > 0$ there exists a $\delta > 0$ such that for all x in the interval $[a, b]$ satisfying $|x - x_0| < \delta$, the inequality $|f(x) - f(x_0)| < \epsilon$ holds.

Indian Grove Township

The Magnificent body of timber called Indian Grove, from which this town takes its name and which extends from Belle Prairie into Avoca Township is one of the earliest settled portions of Livingston County. Indeed the very first settlement made in the county was at the head of this grove, as noted in the history of Belle Prairie Township, and a few months later, white men were found in that portion of the timber lying in Avoca; while not until the Fall of 1831 was there a settlement made in what is now Indian Grove Township.

The first to locate in this immediate vicinity was Joseph Moore. (son of Jonathan Moore, a brother of Francis Moore). He came from Overton County Tenn and arrived here in the Fall of 1831 as already stated above. His journey to the new country was not accomplished with all the ease and pleasure that would attend a similar one at the present day. When we reflect upon the improvements made in the mode of transit in the last forty or fifty years, we look back to the ~~xxxxxx~~ period of the early settlement of this section of the country with a kind of pity for what the pioneers had to undergo in making it what it now is. This man came through from Tennessee on horseback or rather his wife came on horseback and carried their only child and infant, in her lap, while he trudged along on foot. He staked out a claim in the timber bordering along Indian Creek, on which he permanently settled. He lived an honored and respected citizen of the neighborhood and died in October 5, 1851.

A. B. Phillips, commonly known as Barney Phillips, settled here the next spring. He, also, was from Tennessee and an old neighbor of Moore's in the "Land Of Cotton" before removing to the West. Mr. Phillips is still living, a thrifty farmer in the vicinity of where he settled forty-seven years ago. (book published 1878) A song of his is mentioned in the general history as the first white child born in Livingston County. Judge McDowell relates the first meeting with his father's family of Phillips, which is referred to in the history of Avoca Township as showing the quiet manner in which the people lived in those early days, and the interest a new comer in the neighborhood excited. Phillips, ~~xxxxxx~~ referred to in the history of Avoca Township, as showing ~~xxxxxx~~ was hunting some hogs that had strayed away from his place came unexpectedly on the McDowell Camp and seemed speechless from wonder in finding white people so near, while, from his ~~xxxxxx~~ backwoods dress the McDowells did not, at first, know whether he was a white man or Indian; but soon learned, however, and a pleasant acquaintance was formed, which proved of mutual satisfaction.

Rev. John Darnall a brother of Martin Darnall, the first settler in Belle Prairie, came to Indian Grove soon after Barney Phillips and in the same spring. The first preacher in the new settlement and a man of a good deal of native intelligence, he was a kind of leader in all religious, social and political affairs.

Malachi Spence and his son, James Spence, and Richard Moore settled here a year or two after those already mentioned. The latter was from Overton County, Tenn and the Spences and Darnalls from Kentucky. Mrs. Glen Phillips, a widow lady, came from the same Neighborhood in Tennessee and about the same time that Richard Moore and the Spences came to the settlement.

This comprised the first batch of settlers in what is now Indian Grove Township; and some of them are still living on their original homesteads, while those who have died or removed to other States have left honored representatives behind them. Rev. Hohn Darnall sold out some years ago and removed to Oregon. Malachi Spence is dead, but a son lives at the old home. Mrs. Phillips is also dead. Richard Moore and Barney Phillips are still living in the township.

In 1834 another delegation of Tennesseesans came out and settled in Indian Grove, viz; Francis Jones Moore, Jonathan, a brother; Lewis Moore, a cousin, and David Travis who was quite an old man at the time. These came together, and were from the place before noted - Overton County, Tenn. Several other families came with them but settled in what is now Belle Prairie Township, where their history is given. Francis Jones Moore first settled on the west side of the grove but in a year or two "swapped" claims with a neighbor, and moved over on the East side, about five miles from the present village of Fairbury. He is still living, an active man for his time of life and the rough scenes through which he passed in the early days of the country (82 years old). David Travis not liking the outlook of frontier life, after a year or two, returned to Tennessee, where the remainder of his life was spent. Lewis Moore followed him a few years; Jonathan Moore died in 1841.

This section of the country, at the period of which we write, was embraced in McLean County, and the land was not yet in market when these settlements were made. Mr. Moore says it was the custom to blaze out a claim and squat wherever one was suited, provided no one else had a previous claim; then it was not always pleasant or healthy to intrude. For many years all new comers settled in and around the timber, without the remotest idea that the prairies would ever amount to a "pinch of snuff" for anything but pasturage. And to talk with the old settlers now, who came to the country forty or fifty years ago, nothing in the way of its development seems to surprise them ~~much~~ so much as the settling up of the prairie land; that where at the period of their acquaintance with the country, grew the rank grass and weeds, and wild flowers, should now be the most productive and flourishing farms, is a point that puzzles them to the present day.

A few years later, probably about 1835-6 a man named Donohoe, and two sons, Wilson Y and Jefferson Donohoe, settled in this neighborhood. The old gentlemen and Wilson Y. are dead, but Jefferson is still living on the old homestead. Rev. Robert Smith, a Cumberland Presbyterian preacher, settled in the township about the same time. He was originally from Kentucky but came from Sangamon County to this place. This includes all the settlers in Indian Grove Township, until the virtues of the prairies were discovered and the people began to settle away out from the timber, on the great plains.

When the first white people settled here, they had to go some distance to mill - to Green's mill on Fox River, near Ottawa, and on Crow Creek, below Peoria. To the latter mill Mr. Moore informed us that he made his first mill trip and was gone a week. The distance was sixty miles, and was the best chance for grinding in their reach, until a mill was built on the Kankakee River at Wilmington, which was about as far away as the one on Crow Creek. It was sometimes about as hard for the new comer to find grain as to get it ground after he had got it, for no one had been in the country long enough to have an over-supply. There was no mill in this township until the erection of one in the village of Fairbury, except a little horse-mill built by one Smith, about the year 1840.

The first newspaper ever taken in what is now Indian Grove Township was the Chicago Journal then a Whig paper. It had been subscribed for by John and Jesse Moore, who had done so without inquiring into the color of it's political faith. When it came, and the Rev. Mr. Darnall found out that it was a Whig paper, he set his veto on it and would not let it be read in the neighborhood. It was when Avoca was the only post office in all the country round, and so great was the faith of the Moores in Mr. Darnall's opinions, that they refused to take the papers out of the office, and there they accumulated until the subscription expired.

When the county adopted township organization, in 1857, in the process of naming, this town was called "Worth"; but discovering that there was a Worth township in the adjoining county of Woodford, it was found necessary to look up a new name for this FRANCIS JONES MOORE, a prominent citizen and one of the early settlers of the township, suggested Indian Grove which was adopted.

The first church societies organized in Fairbury were the Methodist and Presbyterian. The Methodist Church organized in July 1858 under the ministerial labors of Rev. J. W. Stubbles with the following members: Francis Jones Moore etc.

 Francis C. Barnard followed the sea from boyhood and in early years took the place of the man before the mast. He afterwards became Captain of a large whaling vessel to which business he devoted most of his life in Northern Seas. He retired late in life and settled in Iredell County, North Carolina. They been prominent in that State owing to the condition of the colored people which he sought to relieve by every means in his power. He exerted all his influence and spent a large fortune in carrying on litigation and effecting a freedom of slaves who were made free by their deceased masters, but held in bondage by their heirs. This work had been intrusted to Mr. Barnard as exectors by various slave holders who at their death wished to reward some of their faithful servants with liberty.

On page 1036 Portrait & Biographs of McLean County, Ill. under the name of John M. Artis who married Nancy Adelpia Barnard, dau. of James Osborne Barnard) it states that FRANCIS BARNARD SR. was carried away in a vision while at sea on a whaling voyage, (copy on following page) which speaks of the wars that should come on the notions of the New World and of the over throw of the nations that took arms against it which prophecy has thus far been fulfilled to the letter. Francis Barnard Sr. was at home during the Revolutionary war and did not take part in the contest as it was against his principles to take up arms in any cause. At one time the British soldiers came to his house and took him prisoner. One of his neighbors was upstairs at hearing the noise came down and was also taken. The neighbor was not at all alarmed but said he was willing to go with friend Barnard anywhere. They were released after one nites detention.

AVISION

The Twenty-first of the Eleventh month A. A. 1772.

In the night, season, as I was on my bed, whether sleeping or awake, in the body or out of the body, at that time I could not tell, but I thought I saw a proper man, clothed in white, his garments very plain, his face as alabaster, and had the moon under his feet, and crowned with the sun, and he said: young man come unto me and I will show you wonderful things which shall come to pass, some in thy time. I drew near to him, he said: I have many things to say and bid me write what he said. Then he told me God had raised up a people out of the sea of Rome and the midst of Babylon, many of which had sealed his testimony with their blood, in the midst of the fiery flames, being chained to the stake. After this God visited a people, being their offspring, whom he chose as his peculiar people. All had for many years, too frequently, forgot God, for which a small number mourned and was bowed down yet the Lord would visit the protestant churches, and nations, both in the old continent and North America. His will as he hath shaken the Earth, so will he shake it again and wars and commotions shall much cover the earth. Many shall be slain. Then on New England will be threatened thee with his rod of wars.

He will help you with a little help when you shall be in pain, as on every side, then will your deliverer deliver you from the hands of merciless men, not by the arm of flesh but by his arm of mighty power. He will turn enemys back again without so much as striking you one blow.

The Nations shall have some quietness for a short space, but because of irreligion, and the crying sings of pride and oppression, and making slaves of the souls of men, will he visit again and shall shake terribly the earth and many shall be pounded in some places with the rubbish of the earth, ~~AND MANY~~ Paleness shall be in their faces and many shall be surprised in their beds. Then will he bring on wars and rumors of wars; then shall not the sword prosper in you hand; then shall you begin to fear and tremble, then shall he raise up a nation against you or nations, which before were friends; a despised nation, even the heathens in North America which shall slay and carry captive young and old; then shall the blood of the slain run like streams of water on the earth, and the Earth shall be dunged with the bodies of men in many places in North America; then shall ~~the~~ you mighty men fall back. Oh North America, thy sins are great, thy

THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

The first part of the history of the United States is the period from the discovery of the continent by Christopher Columbus in 1492 to the establishment of the first permanent settlements. This period is characterized by the exploration of the continent by Spanish, French, and English explorers, and the establishment of the first permanent settlements by the English in 1607.

The second part of the history of the United States is the period from the establishment of the first permanent settlements to the American Revolution in 1776. This period is characterized by the growth of the colonies, the struggle for independence from Britain, and the establishment of the United States as a new nation.

The third part of the history of the United States is the period from the American Revolution to the present. This period is characterized by the growth of the United States as a world power, the Civil War, the Reconstruction period, the Gilded Age, the Progressive Era, the Great Depression, and the Second World War.

punishment is greater. Likewise; also, the sword shall be sheathed in they bowels until thou repent.

Oh New England, they distress shall be very great. Thou are full of oppression and thy sons shall be oppressed and ~~thou shalt~~ slain in battle; thou that thinkest they self strong shall be weak. Oh North America, they distress shall come as one upon another, until a suffering trying time come more and more upon you; Your young men and maids shall be brought low and bow, as at Gods foot-stool.

Fathers and Mothers shall mourn apart. Songs and daughters shall mourn apart. Many shall go into captivity and fare hardly. Many shall desire death and it is not granted. Famine shall be in some places; others distressed in the wilderness, with a savage people, many slain in cold blood. The cries of the poor enter the streets of towns and cities. One continual trouble shall follow another until the inhabitants bow in reverence and true humility of Heart and mind, with cries to their Father.

Then shall your young men be bowed down and seek their God and many shall cry for help. Then shall your inhabitants that know not God, rise with the old spirit of persecution, in which time shall your young men and maids stand for the honor of God. Then shall his chosen people and church appear in their primitive beauty and purity.

Then shall your young men and maids run to and fro with the gospel in their mouths, preaching in dark corners of the Earth, even at the seat of the world of Babylon.

Then shall many suffer great persecutions, then shall the old world have one draught more of the blood of the saints. But a short time will he raise up the powers of the earth to help his children and church and deliver his servants and then shall the gospel be declared unto the ends of the earth, more fully than ever it hath been before. Then the God of mercies will make his church shine more and more, then will oppression cease among his chosen people.

So said he, and took me by the hand and bid me adieu and when I awoke I was sitting up in bed.

McCORD FAMILY

McCord, James
Born
Died

The maternal grandfather of William McCord Barnard, the father of Jane (McCord) Barnard wife of Francis Barnard. He was a very different man from Francis Barnard Jr. who was a "friend". He was not a quaker on the contrary he thought it his duty to harass the British and pick off their men. He was not a regular soldier in the American army but he was in every scrimmage in which he could find a chance to engage. He was a sharp marksman and picked off many a red jacket. The British took revenge by sacking his house and leaving everything in it in pieces. His wife Mrs. McCord hid her baby in the woods that it's cries might not be heard, then took the child next oldest with her and hid in the thick pea vines near by. The soldiers utterly ruined everything in the house then went into the milk house drank some milk and pitched the crocks into the river. They drove off the horses and stock and everything on the premises was destroyed disordered ruin. But James McCord watched for the "Red Jackets" sharper than ever and made many of them pay with their lives for this destruction of his property.

Summary of findings

Investigative Summary: This report provides a detailed analysis of the data collected during the study. The findings indicate a significant correlation between the variables examined, suggesting a causal relationship. The data was analyzed using statistical methods, and the results are presented in the following sections.

The study was conducted over a period of six months, during which time a total of 150 participants were recruited. The participants were divided into three groups: a control group, a treatment group, and a comparison group. The treatment group received the intervention being studied, while the control group did not. The comparison group was used to provide a baseline for comparison. The results of the study are as follows:

The findings of the study are consistent with the hypothesis that the intervention has a positive effect on the outcome variable. The treatment group showed a significant improvement in the outcome variable compared to the control group. The comparison group showed no significant change in the outcome variable. The results of the study are presented in the following table:
